

THE MINISTRY
COLLABORATIVE

A Project of the Macedonian Ministry
Foundation

Prejudice and Profit: A Christian Analysis of Race and Economics

AN ONLINE, NATIONWIDE COHORT FOR MINISTRY LEADERS

COHORT DETAILS:

OCTOBER 17 - May 1

2nd and 4th Monday of every month at 3 PM CT
- 4:30 PM CT

REGISTRATION FEE: $660

Limited scholarships available*

Each session will offer in-depth content and resourcing, as well as create space for soul care and support. If you would like more information regarding the cohort either before or after applying, please email the cohort facilitator, Joe Scriver, at joescrivnersr@hotmail.com.

SPECIAL GUESTS INCLUDE:

Andrew Wilkes, Co-Pastor, Double Love Experience in Brooklyn NY, Principal of Wilkes Advocacy Group, PhD candidate in Political Science at the Graduate Center, City University of New York, Ryan Bonfiglio, Assistant Professor in the Practice of Old Testament, Director of The Candler Foundry, and Carole Maddux Archdeacon, Diocese of Atlanta, Executive Director of Georgia Interfaith Public Policy Center

Facilitated by: Rev. Joe Scriver

CHRISTIANS OFTEN TALK ABOUT RACISM IN TERMS OF PERSONAL ATTITUDES. THIS IS IMPORTANT, BUT INSUFFICIENT.

Christians must also consider how racism functions to obscure economic exploitation. This group will engage an in-depth conversation about race and economics through readings of Scripture, book excerpts, and articles. The goal is to move beyond the idea of racism as a personal attitude to more challenging questions about how racial prejudice often hides economic injustice. A closer look at these issues can help us more faithfully answer God's call for justice, from the prophets to Jesus to James.

Andrew Wilkes

Carole Maddux

Ryan Bonfiglio

RESERVE YOUR SPOT!

Space is Limited to 12 Participants*

Joe Scrivner, Pastor, Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) & Dean of Chapel at Stillman College

Meet Joe!

Rev. Joseph Scrivner, Ph.D., serves as Pastor for Brown Memorial Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) and as Dean of Chapel at Stillman College. As a preacher, he was inducted into the Morehouse College of Ministers. As a scholar, he has written on biblical interpretation. As a college administrator, he has secured several grants, including an award from Lilly Endowment, Inc., to fund the Stillman College Center for Thriving Congregations. As a community member, he serves as a Trustee for the Presbyterian Home for Children in Talladega. He earned a Ph.D. in Biblical Studies from Princeton Theological Seminary. He shares his life with his wonderful wife, Krysten Carter Holloway. He is also the proud father of three amazing adult children: Jessica, Joseph II, and Jocquelyn; and two delightful bonus children: Kennedy and Carter. He is an even prouder grandfather of four incomparable grandchildren: Adrian, Aiden, Lailah, and Jonah. His hobbies include chess, movies, and music.

Resources Available to You:

Published twice per week, our blog aims to advance conversation topics that we believe are the most crucial for navigating ministry today. Additionally, our weekly podcast features a series of honest conversations about the opportunities, challenges, and joy of ministry today.

Sign Up to Receive our Weekly Articles & Podcast Episodes!